

Alumni Office Escapes Serious Damage In Fire

The Alumni Office escaped serious damage in a fire early Sunday morning, April 23. The blaze started in the office of Dr. Lester K. Beavers, sociology, causing great personal loss of his library and personal papers.

The fire was discovered shortly after 3 a.m. and destroyed a classroom adjacent to Dr. Beaver's office as well. The Alumni Office sustained a sagging floor, smoke and water damage, but the records remained intact.

Addresses are also duplicated in computer files, and Secy.-Treas. Kenneth F. Haines announced that data from maiden files and deceased files would be placed in the Computer Center as well.

The State Fire Marshall has determined the blaze was caused by a faulty ballast in an overhead lighting fixture.

WVU President Addresses 145 Grads On May 7

Dr. Gene A. Budig, president of West Virginia University, was principal speaker at the 75th annual commencement Sunday, May 7.

Dr. A. Gordon Slonaker, who retired December 31 of last year, awarded diplomas to the class of 145 graduates.

Acting Dean of the College Dr. Douglas A. Harrington presented the Class of 1978 and recognized the top male and female graduates, James Edward Thompson, and Mary Susan Shears, both of Keyser.

Following the ceremonies, a plaque honoring Dr. Ernest E. Church and the late Dean Kirkland S. McKee, for whom the Church-McKee Arts Center is named, was unveiled. Dr. Slonaker presided over the brief ceremony, Dr. Church and Kirk McKee, Shepherdstown, nephew of the late dean, responded.

Summer Term To End Aug. 11

Two sessions are scheduled this summer at Potomac State College. The first term began Monday, June 5 and will close Friday, July 7.

The second session opens July 10 and lasts until August 11. Registration is scheduled the first day of each term in Academy Hall.

Dr. James McBee To Succeed Dean Slonaker

Former Dean Retires Dec. 31 Due to Health

Dr. A. Gordon Slonaker, dean of the college since July, 1973, retired effective last Dec. 31, upon the recommendations of his physician and family.

In accepting his resignation, Dr. Gene Budig, president of West Virginia University called him "an outstanding dean, under whose leadership the college has grown in size, stature, and excellence. Dr. Slonaker, more than any other dean, has strengthened the relationship between West Virginia University and Potomac State College."

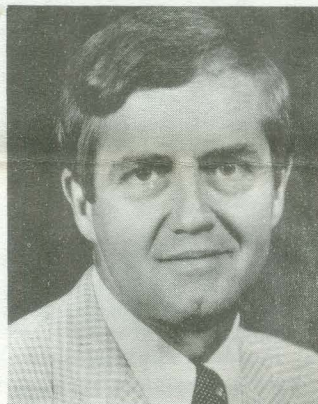

In his prepared address to the faculty, Dr. Slonaker expressed his deep feelings for the staff of Potomac State and for the people of the Keyser area. He noted that he and his wife, Marjory, would always consider the four and one-half years in Keyser among their best.

Dr. Slonaker was honored by both students and staff prior to his departure. The Student Government feted him on Nov. 12 with recognition at the afternoon football game and a banquet that evening.

Members of the administration, faculty, clerical and maintenance staffs presented him gifts at the annual Dean's Christmas Reception on Dec. 11. Included were a CB radio, a copy of "The Patton Papers," and a gift certificate from Grayson's Sporting Goods Shop. The Visiting Committee gave him a framed Don Whitlatch nature portrait.

Dr. Slonaker holds a bachelor's degree from Shepherd College, a master's from WVU, and a doctorate in history from the University of Virginia. He saw service in France during World War II and received a battlefield commission. He recently

Homecoming Set For October 14

SATURDAY, OCTOBER 14, IS THE DAY: Yes, that's the date of HOMECOMING '78. Plan now to return for a weekend of fun and nostalgia.

Anniversary reunions are being planned for the Classes of 1928 and 1953, observing their golden and silver anniversary years.

If you would like to work on a reunion for your class, contact Mrs. Coffman in the Alumni Office.

Dr. Harlow Dies Suddenly In D.C.

Dr. James G. Harlow, recently retired president of West Virginia University, died in his sleep, March 10 while in Washington on business.

A native of Oklahoma City, OK, he was WVU president from 1967 until the summer of 1977. He had returned to his home after retiring and served as chairman of the board and president of the Harlow Publishing Corp. in Norman, OK, a school book company founded by his father in 1911.

Harlow's career drew words of gratitude and praise from numerous educators as well as Sen. Jennings Randolph and Gov. Jay Rockefeller, of West Virginia.

W.Va. Native Assumes Post Effective Aug. 1

Dr. James L. McBee, Jr., a native of Philippi, W.Va., has been named Executive Dean and Professor of Agriculture at Potomac State College of West Virginia University effective August 1. He will become the 10th head of the institution since its founding in 1902.

Dr. McBee is currently vice chancellor for administration and finance at the University of Massachusetts in Amherst.

He was graduated from WVU in 1952, received a Master's degree from that institution in 1956, and was awarded a Doctor of Philosophy degree from the University of Missouri in 1959.

Before entering graduate school, Dr. McBee served 40 months with the U.S. Navy, from 1952 to 1955, as operations officer aboard a destroyer. He has remained active with the U.S. Naval Reserve, presently holding the rank of Captain.

He joined the staff of WVU in 1959 as Assistant Professor of Animal Science and was promoted to Associate Professor in 1964. During that year he also served as acting chairman of the department.

Total Enrollment

Passes 1,000 Mark

Potomac State College again showed growth for the fourth consecutive year with a total count of students taking courses for credit being 982, according to the W.Va. Board of Regents. Another 92 students took courses for continuing education credit for a total enrollment of 1,074, marking the highest total enrollment in recent PSC records.

Student enrollment showed 480 freshmen, 308 sophomores, and 194 special students.

Faculty, Staff Changes Noted Since Last Fall

The opening of the spring semester saw several changes among faculty and staff members.

Named instructor in psychology was Mrs. Evelyn Petry, replacing Carl Cox, who resigned at the close of the first semester.

Mrs. Petry holds an AB degree in English and psychology from Wilmington (OH) College and a master's degree in psychology from Ohio University.

She served for five years as a school psychologist in Ohio, and most recently held a similar position for Grant, Hardy, Hampshire, and Pendleton counties.

In other staff changes, Mrs. Helen (Drane) Jenkins, '62, was named cashier, replacing Mrs. Ann V. Pamer, '33, who retired after serving in that position for over 18 years.

Mrs. Dinah Sue (Wells) Courier, '64, took on part-time teaching of business education classes for Prof. Elwood Layman, who continues to recover from a heart attack suffered during the Christmas vacation.

Last fall Capt. Bradford E. Baum joined the faculty as Professor of Military Science coming to the local campus from Fort Campbell, Ky., where he was assigned as the Operations Officer for an aviation group.

He entered the Army in 1965 at which time he received a direct commission to Captain. His military schooling includes attendance at the Infantry Officers Basic and Advanced Course. He is also an aviator who is qualified in both rotary and fixed wings. He has a B.S. degree in social science from the University of Tampa, Fla.

Lester Beavers Gets Doctorate

Lester K. Beavers, associate professor of political science and sociology, was awarded a Doctor of Philosophy degree in political science at West Virginia University's commencement exercises Sunday, May 14.

Dr. Beavers' dissertation deals with an assessment of political and social change in Colombia, South America, as seen by the country's leading newspaper, EL TIEMPO.

Dr. Beavers joined the faculty in the fall of 1971.

Four Members of Faculty, Staff Retire While Another Joins 25-Year Club

The Potomac State College Social Club recently honored four members of the staff who retired and one who marked 25 years of service. They are, from left to right, Mrs. Ann V. Pamer, cashier in the business office; Prof. Helen C. Criner, registrar; Dean A. Gordon Slonaker; Dr. Elizabeth A. Atwater, professor of speech and journalism, the retirees, and Prof. Irene (Brown) Hartman, who joined the 25-Year-Club.

Five members of the college staff were honored by the Potomac State Social Club during its annual spring banquet on April 1 at the Potomac Motel Dining Room.

Recognized on the occasion of their retirement were Dr. Elizabeth A. Atwater, professor of speech and journalism; Prof. Helen C. Criner, Registrar and associate professor of commerce, who retired at the end of the spring semester, and Dean A. Gordon Slonaker and Mrs. Ann V. Pamer, who retired in December.

Also honored by the Social Club at the same time was Prof. Irene (Brown) Hartman who joined the 25-Year member group.

Testimonials to the honored guests were offered by: Prof. Emeritus Leonard G. Withers for Dr. Atwater, Retired Librarian Miss Mary F. Shipper, for Prof. Criner, Prof. Kenneth M. Malone for Mrs. Hartman, Administrative Assistant Harry R. Smith, for Mrs. Pamer, and Prof. Oscar H. Gustafson, for Dr. Slonaker.

The welcome was given by Miss Linda S. Lancaster, of the social club and the invocation by H. Jack Conrad. Mrs. Faye W. Beans, secretary to the Associate Dean, was toast-mistress and introduced the guests after which remarks were made by Acting Dean of the College, Douglas A. Harrington.

The four retirees represent a combined total of over 93 years of service to the college.

Dr. Atwater holds the longest uninterrupted teaching record on the campus to date with 39 years to her credit. In addition to teaching a fulltime schedule, Dr. Atwater has been adviser to the college newspaper, the Pasquino, for 39 years; was director of the Players for 11 years (1939-50) and in 1943 established the campus chapter of Delta Psi Omega dramatic honorary; and also served for 33 years (1939-72) as Director of Public Relations for the college.

Completing 32 years at Potomac State and taking early retirement is Miss Helen C. Criner, best-known on campus in her capacity as Registrar, having served in that office for some 25 years, first as assistant registrar under the late Dean K.S. McKee and then becoming Registrar at the time of his illness and death in 1963. Last year she was also named head of the College Placement Office. She joined the faculty at Potomac State in 1946 as instructor in commerce.

Mrs. Ann (Hollen) Pamer completed 18 and one-half years of service to the college prior to her retirement on Dec. 31, 1977. A graduate of Potomac State, she was former cashier at the college and prior to joining the business office staff she had experience in floral design, held ownership of a market jointly with her husband, and was involved in furniture sales all in Charleston.

All three of the women honored have been active in numerous organizations within their respective fields, the state, and the community. Space does not permit the listing of their many, many contributions to the college and the city of Keyser during their years on campus.

Mrs. Hartman, who this year marked her silver anniversary on the faculty came to Potomac State in 1953 as an instructor in commerce and by 1975 rose to the rank of full professor. She also has served as coordinator for the commerce department for several years. The former Miss Irene Brown, she and Capt. Herbert J. Hartman, USN, Ret., a former member of the PSC engineering faculty, were married in July 1976.

A separate article on Dr. Slonaker's retirement appears on Page 1 of this newsletter.

Atlantic Christian College Appoints Doster President

Dr. Harold C. Doster, former Executive Dean of Potomac State College from 1970-73, was appointed as president of Atlantic Christian College, Wilson, N.C., effective last Jan. 1.

Dr. Doster, who succeeded Dr. Todd H. Bullard as head of Potomac State, resigned in 1973 to assume the presidency of Culver-Stockton College, Canton, Mo.

Many Former Students Return, Honor Dr. Atwater

Among the many honors bestowed upon Dr. Elizabeth Atwater during the recent Press Banquet in her honor at Potomac Motel Dining Room was a special plaque presented to her on behalf of all her former students.

The bronze plaque, mounted on wood, featured a photo of Dr. Atwater, the college seal, a replica of the Pasquino flag, and the inscription: "Present and past staff members of the Pasquino honor Dr. Elizabeth A. Atwater upon her retirement from Potomac State College, April 22, 1978. -30-"

Presentation was made by Dr. Atwater's first news-editor when she came to the campus in 1959, Dr. Jack D. Alexander, '40, who is now professor of business management at Lowell (Mass.) University.

Little did those in attendance realize that just about two months later these two would be man and wife. A report on their wedding appears elsewhere in the Newsletter.

Dr. Elizabeth A. Atwater, faculty advisor to the Pasquino, the Potomac State College student newspaper, and retiring professor of journalism, was honored at the annual press banquet held on April 22 at the Potomac Motel dining room.

Students in Dr. Atwater's class with the cooperation of Mrs. Mary Evelyn Coffman, office assistant for Alumni Affairs, contacted the former journalism students of Dr. Atwater spanning a 39-year teaching career at Potomac State. The turnout was impressive with 132 former students representing every year she had taught at the college, returning for the occasion.

Dr. Guy Stewart, dean of the School of Journalism at West Virginia University and a former student of Dr. Atwater, was the keynote speaker using as his theme a tribute to her years of service to Potomac State and to the field of journalism.

Among the many surprises accorded the guest of honor was the bestowing of the title "Distinguished West Virginian" which was announced by Jack Canfield, administrative assistant to Governor Jay Rockefeller. Canfield, a former student, spoke briefly on the honor which was being accorded Dr. Atwater and recalled memories of his days at Potomac State.

Phil Jordan, another PSC journalism alumnus, now assistant to Congressman Harley O. Staggers, presented Dr. Atwater a letter from President Jimmy Carter congratulating her on her service in education.

Jack Alexander, the first news editor of the Pasquino under Dr. Atwater's guidance, presented her with a plaque from all of her former students, commemorating her 39 years of service as advisor to the student newspaper.

The annual banquet is the time each year when the new staff is announced. Dr. Atwater introduced to the group Miss Debbie Karcher, of Johnstown, Pa., editor; Miss Denise Hartman, Burlington, news-editor; and Brian Richards, Keyser, sports editor.

Pasquino Editor, Miss Vickie Saville, of Keyser, chaired the arrangements committee and was mistress of ceremonies. Later she presented to Dr. Atwater a certificate which had been signed by all present, the guest book, and another book containing the replies returned from those present and others not able to attend. These sheets gave information on present occupation and family status. She also presented a basket containing nearly 100 personal letters and a stock of gifts, one of which came from a former student stationed with the Navy in Iceland. There were also several floral tributes from persons unable to be present.

Attending were: Harriett Hartman Burrell '69, Dennis Carpenter, '67, Thomas J. Conlon '48, Dr. and Mrs. James W. Courrier '63 (Dinah Wells) '64, Harold C. Effland '48, Susan Carpenter Elrick '74, Robert D. Harman '57, Patricia Hastings '74, Kenneth F. Haines '50, Joseph W. Kessel '48, Donald Kingery '68, Mary Chapman Kuykendall '65, Patricia Shuck Leatherman '54, Diane Armentrout Rhodes '71, Patricia Calhoun Wagoner '57, and Steve R. Wilson '75, all of Keyser.

From Cumberland, Md. were: Phyllis Riggelman Brotemarkle '50, John E. Byrd '42, Colleen Davis Gingerich '59, Charles H. Kelly '48, and Ted Troxell '61.

From Morgantown: Kerry L. Effland '76, Dr. Guy H. Stewart '43, Steve and Mildred (Roberts) Wilson '74, and Iris Mankins Jennings '54.

Others included: Joe Abromowitz '76, Mt. Pleasant, Pa., Dr. Jack D. Alexander '40, Rye Beach, N.H., John Borchert '48, Charlotte, N.C., J. Scott Bosley '63, Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, Jack Canfield '61, and Samme L. Gee, '73, Charleston, Richard Carson '65, Franklin, Kathy Casteel '76, Kingwood, Paul C. Cline '53, Harrisonburg, Va., Charles E. Coe '59, Alexandria, Va., P. Wendell Dick '60, Winchester, Va.

Durwood H. Foor '50, Mildred Popovich Miller '48, both of Pittsburgh, Pa., Robert L. Grayson, '77, and Debbie Haan, '77, both of Ridgeley, Cheryl Haines Griffith '73, Martinsburg, John Handzo '61, Centerville, Md., Martin L. Heavner '75, Silver Spring, Md.

Full Schedule of Activities Makes '77 Homecoming Among Best Ever

Ten members of the 1952 class of Potomac State College were on hand for the Alumni Association's homecoming banquet last fall at Potomac Motel to observe their 25th reunion.

Memories of another Homecoming have been written in the annals of Potomac State College and many felt that the 1977 weekend was among the biggest and best ever.

Records indicate that the total number of mothers and dads, former students, and friends of the college who attended the events surpassed that of any year since Homecoming and Parents' Day were combined. A total of 206 parents registered for lunch and 156 for dinner at the dining hall and many, many others were present for various activities throughout the day.

Visitor registration was conducted in the Student Union with the aide of the Circle K Club. The parade, sponsored by Student Government, was considered one of the biggest and best ever.

Halftime of the Cat vs. Baltimore football game (won by the Cats 25-0) featured the dedication of the new Stayman Field press box and the Robert J. Augustino Dugout, named for the deceased former athlete and alumni president.

Present for the dedication was Mrs. Augustino of Pittsburgh who received a plaque with the same inscription as that placed at the dugout, reading: "In Memory of Robert J. Augustino, 1932-34, by his friends, October 29, 1977."

Secretary of State A. James Manchin placed the crown on the head of the homecoming queen, Miss Catamount XXXIX, Miss Tammy Mez-zatesta, of Romney.

Post game receptions were held at Friend Hall and Memorial Hall. Concluding the day's activities were the music faculty recital at the Arts Center and the Homecoming Dance at Kelley Armory.

Nearly 200 persons gathered at Potomac Motel for the annual banquet sponsored by the Alumni Association.

Highlighting the evening was the presentation of two special awards. Invited by the Alumni Association to make the presentation to her former student, Dr. Elizabeth A. Atwater, professor of speech and journalism, presented the Alumni Achievement Award to Thomas F. Pendergast, '51, vice-president of the Associated Press.

Alumni Association President Joseph W. Kessel, '48, presented the Distinguished Service Award to Prof. Emeritus Ervin L. (Ikey) Dayton, Keyser, noting his 33 years of outstanding service to PSC as a teacher and his 14 years as alumni secretary from 1940-1954. Both recipients responded with brief remarks to the assembly as did Dean A.G. Slonaker and Associate Dean Douglas A. Harrington.

Prof. Kenneth F. Haines, '50, secretary-treasurer of the Alumni Association and Alumni Foundation gave annual reports of both organizations followed by the Roll Call of Classes and introduction of those observing their 25th and 50th class reunion.

Also introduced were family members of the award winners.

In addition to Prof. Dayton's wife, his daughter and son-in-law Dr. and Mrs. Sagar Bakhshi of Colonial Heights, Va., attended. Coming from Whittier, Calif., were a nephew James Dayton and his wife.

Among Pendergast's relatives were his mother, Mrs. Edith Pendergast, '24, Capt. and Mrs. James Pendergast, USMC, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pendergast, '59, Francis Gibson, an uncle, and two cousins, Mrs. C.W. Gustkey, and son, Edward, '58.

Dean Handlan Home Following Stay In Hospital

Retired Associate Dean James T. Handlan returned home recently from Memorial Hospital in Cumberland, where he underwent a series of tests for cardiac and circulatory problems. Further surgery may be indicated following a period of rest and recuperation.

Since his retirement from Potomac State, he has remained active in a number of organizations and just recently was appointed by Agricultural Commissioner Gus R. Douglas to fill an unexpired term on the Potomac Valley Soil Conservation District, representing Mineral County as a District Supervisor. In this capacity he will represent the county in matters pertaining to natural resources, environment, ecology, and conservation education.

Dr. McBee left WVU in 1970 to become chairman of the Department of Agriculture and Professor of Animal Science at Illinois State University in Normal, Ill.

The American Council on Education selected him as an ACE Fellow in Academic Administration for 1974-75. In that capacity he was Assistant to the President of Illinois State, then Dr. Gene A. Budig, who is now president of WVU.

In 1975 Dr. McBee was appointed Executive Officer in the Office of the President at Illinois State. In this position he had line responsibility for development, alumni services, internal auditing, and men's and women's intercollegiate athletics for an institution of 22,000 students with an annual operating budget of more than $70 million.

He went to the University of Massachusetts in May, 1977, where he has had financial responsibility for a budget of $130 million and administers the divisions of personnel and employee services, financial services, campus operations, food services, and grants and contracts.

Dr. McBee holds membership in Alpha Zeta, Sigma Xi, Gamma Sigma Delta, Phi Delta Kappa, Alpha Tau Alpha, American Meat Science Association, American Society of Animal Science, National Association of College and University Business Officers, and the Society for College and University Planning.

He has been active at various times in civic organizations such as the PTA, Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Kiwanis International.

Recent honors include selection to "Who's Who in America" and to "Personalities in the West and Midwest." Of significant note was the Distinguished Teacher Award at WVU in 1969.

He is married to the former Jean Bush of Morgantown. They have a daughter, Debi, 20, and a son, Keith, 16.

Dr. McBee was nominated by a college search committee chaired by Prof. Kenneth F. Haines, '50. Serving with him were Prof. Elizabeth P. Hanlin, '42, Prof. Nancy H. Oates, Dr. Allen E. Murphy, and Prof. Harry R. Smith, '60.

Also on the committee were Dr. Ralph Nelson, vice-provost for academic affairs at WVU; Vernon Staggers, '26, member of the Visiting Committee, and Stuart Durst, '78, Student Government president.

Dr. Atwater And Dr. Alexander Married June 21

The marriage of Dr. Elizabeth Amanda Atwater, who retired this spring as professor of journalism and speech, and Dr. Jack Dwyer Alexander '40, professor in the College of Business Management at Lowell (Mass.) University, was solemnized June 21, during a Nuptial Mass at Holy Cross Church, Garrett Park, Md.

Officiating was the Rev. Monsgr. Robert E. Lewis '40, pastor. Monsignor Lewis is a former student of Dr. Atwater and former roommate of Dr. Alexander while both were at Potomac State.

Dr. Atwater was given in marriage by former President E.E. church and Mrs. Church provided organ music before and during the ceremony.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Carl Emerel Ables, of Pittsburgh, a college classmate of Dr. Atwater. Best man for his brother was Samuel Alexander '49 of Plymouth, Ind.

A reception followed at the Naval Officers Club, Bethesda (Md.) Medical Center. After travel in England and Ireland the couple will reside at 40 South Road, Rye Beach, NH, 03871.

The rehearsal dinner was given by Mrs. Jean Alexander Dillard '43, sister of the groom, at her Silver Spring, Md., apartment.

Tanner Winner Of Lough Award

Douglas S. Tanner, sophomore from Bowie, Md., became the fifth recipient of the annual Dana Glenn Lough Award at the annual Recognition Day program in April.

Tanner is the first baseball player to receive the award, given to an athlete who demonstrates citizenship, integrity, and dedication, both on and off the athletic field.

MCBEE DEAN

retired from the U.S. Army Reserves with the rank of Lt. Colonel.

He has spent his life in education, first as public school teacher and then principal in Hampshire County, and then as Registrar and later Academic Dean at Shepherd College. He left office as the senior dean in the state of West Virginia.

The Slonakers are enjoying their retirement in Shepherdstown.

Dugouts Honor PSC Alumnus

Harold L. Welker, of Romney, classmate of Augustino, represented the "early 30" classes and friends who supported the drive for the dugout honoring Augustino.

Augustino was a former athletic standout at PSC and served from 1951-53 as president of the Alumni Association. He was well-known as a coach for some 25 years in the Pittsburgh area where he recruited many athletes for Potomac State.

Coach Fred (Tack) Clark, Keyser, chaired the drive for Memorial funds to honor Augie first through members of the Classes of 1930-36 at a reunion in the spring of '77 and then through a letter campaign.

Funds poured in for the home team and visitors' dugouts with a big boost being given the fund through the generosity of David G. Nuzum.

In her remarks to the Alumni Newsletter, Mrs. Augustino has stated: "I am grateful to all the alumni who contributed toward the Robert Augustino Memorial. I wish to especially commend the Classes of 1930-36, Chairman Coach Clark, and all who gave of themselves so diligently and devotedly.

"Even with an aura of sadness, I was most proud to accept this honor in Augie's memory. What a fitting tribute to a man who devoted a lifetime to both youth and sports! My profound thanks!"

Slonaker Named Boss of the Year

Dean A.G. Slonaker was named "Boss of the Year" during the 30th annual Executive Night Dinner of the Algonquin Chapter, National Secretaries Association last fall at the Cumberland (MD) Country Club.

Charles S. Catherman, chairman of the selection committee and toastmaster for the program, made the announcement and presented Dr. Slonaker with a trophy and certificate on behalf of the local chapter.

Guest speaker was former U.S. Senator J. Glenn Beall, Jr. of Maryland. Prof. Irene B. Hartman, coordinator, Commerce and Business Administration and president of Algonquin Chapter, welcomed the audience of more than 70 persons.

All awards are made by the Scholarship Awards Committee. Alumni scholarship holders this year were sophomores Deirdre Triplett, Winchester, VA, and Terra Friend, Terra Alta, and freshman Mrs. Diane (Lechlitter) White, Westernport, MD, and Jeanette Staggs, Keyser.

The Foundation board acted at its quarterly luncheon meeting, Tuesday, May 9. Attending were President Glen A. Ryan, '50, Edwin Jordan, '32, vice-president; Prof. Kenneth F. Haines, '50, secretary-treasurer; Mrs. Mary Evelyn Coffman, '36, alumni affairs director; Mrs. Betty Howard, librarian; Dr. Charles D. Whitehill, Dr. Ernest E. Church, and Virgil Hull, '51.

Unable to attend were Mrs. Carl Peters, '32, James Taylor, '42, and Acting Dean of the College Dr. Douglas A. Harrington.

Dr. Champion to Attend Institute

Dr. James R. Champion, associate professor of physics, has been notified that he has been accepted to participate in the 1978 Summer Institute in Philosophical Ethics at Georgetown University, Washington, D.C., this summer.

The program is sponsored by the Council for Philosophical Studies. Dr. Champion was one of 43 applicants chosen from across the country to participate.

Nuzums Create New Scholarships For PS Students

The David G. and Leontine B. Nuzum Scholarship has been created for a freshman and a sophomore attending Potomac State College. Selection will be made by the Scholarship Awards Committee, and the Alumni Foundation will administer the award, which is renewable for a second year.

Mr. and Mrs. Nuzum taught English at Potomac State, and upon retirement both were named Professor Emeritus.

David Nuzum came to the college in 1938 and retired June 30, 1977, having served as head of the English Department, Director of Student Affairs, and Coordinator of the federally funded program, Title III, Strengthening Developing Institutions, for three years.

Mrs. Nuzum joined the college faculty in 1943 when her husband was called for military duty. She served as instructor in English and art appreciation for 30 years, retiring in 1973.

The Nuzums came to Keyser from Clarksburg where they had been teachers of English in high school. They hold master's degrees from West Virginia University.

The Nuzum Scholarship is to be awarded without regard to residence, sex, religion, field of study, or marital status. Guidelines include consideration of high school senior year grade-point average, class rank, honors, achievement on standardized tests, exemplary citizenship, and financial need as demonstrated by gross family income, size of family at home, and number of children in postsecondary education.

Students Honor Three Instructors

Three teachers at Potomac State College were named Outstanding Instructors for 1977-78 following student balloting conducted by Student Government.

The honored educators were: Dr. Elizabeth A. Atwater, speech and journalism; Prof. Kenneth Malone, agriculture; and Prof. Nancy Oates, biology.

Names selected on the PSC campus are forwarded to WVU to be considered along with nominees from other colleges of the university for the title of top instructors and a cash award.

Alumni Office Marks 16th Year

The Alumni Office, located in the Administration Building, observed the 16th anniversary of its opening last fall with an informal tea to which alumni, faculty, and friends were invited.

Former Alumni President, Friend Of College, Ralph Bean, Dies.

Ralph J. Bean, 65, well-known Moorefield attorney and businessman and former president of the Potomac State College Alumni Association, died June 7 in the West Virginia University Medical Center at Morgantown following a brief illness.

Atty. Bean, who served as president of the Alumni from 1944-45 was again elected to the office from 1956-58. He served on the college advisory board formed in 1972 and had been a member and former president of the WVU Board of Governors, which controlled Potomac State.

During his distinguished career in the West Virginia Senate, he served as president of that body at the 1953, 1955, 1957, and 1959 sessions, and from 1970-73 was active in spearheading the drive to keep Potomac State a part of WVU. He was also instrumental in supporting the allocation of funds for several campus buildings, including the Mary F. Shipper Library.

In ceremonies held during the 1975 Homecoming he was presented the Distinguished Service Award by the Alumni Association.

Born in Moorefield on Dec.

12, 1912, he was the son of M.A. Bean and Kate (Hedrick) Bean.

Surviving are his widow Carrie (Muntzing) Bean; four sons: R.J. Bean Jr., Bridgeport; Oscar M. Bean, Moorefield; Dr. Howard Bean, Winchester, and William H. Moore, Moorefield; one daughter, Ida Kay Webster, Moorefield, and one brother, Oscar H. Bean, Moorefield. Also surviving are nine grandchildren.

Mr. Bean was a member of the Duffy Memorial United Methodist Church, Lions Club, Masonic Lodge 29 AF&AM and the Shriners.

A graduate of Moorefield High School and Potomac State College, Mr. Bean received his bachelors degree from WVU and graduated from the College of Law in 1936. He served as prosecuting attorney in Hardy County from 1937 until 1945. He was the senior partner in the law firm of Bean and Bean.

At the time of his death, he was president of the South Branch Valley National Bank, the M.A. Bean Oil Company and the Hardy County Historical Society. He was vice-president of the M.A. Bean Motor Company.

Family Begins Scholarship To Honor Atwater

The Alumni Foundation received late in April from Miss Irene M. Atwater of McKeesport, Pa., sister of Dr. Elizabeth A. Atwater, a check in the amount of $2,735 to establish in the name of her family a "Dr. Elizabeth A. Atwater Journalism Scholarship."

In her letter to Mrs. Mary Evelyn Coffman, Director of Alumni Affairs, Miss Atwater said: "...all of us, especially myself, are pardonably proud of Betty's record, her whole career, her influence over the years upon the young people who came under her guidance and who now rise up to 'call her blessed,' and the friends bound by 'hoops of steel.' For that reason, we feel there should be something in which we have a part to honor her at Potomac State."

It has been agreed that the fund will be left open for contributions from anyone desiring to add to it. Checks may be made payable to the Potomac State College Alumni Foundation and earmarked for the E.A. Atwater Scholarship Fund.

Material Sought For Book About SSgt. Ed Kelley

George T. McWhorter, curator of rare books and special collections in the library of the University of Louisville in Kentucky, has been consulting for several months with the family and associates of the late Staff Sergeant Jonah Edward Kelley in conjunction with plans to write a book about the Congressional Medal of Honor winner.

Sgt. Kelley, a former Keyser High School and Potomac State College football player, received the top military decoration for heroism during World War II when he lost his life during a fierce battle in Kesternick, Germany. He attended Potomac State from September 1941 until the late fall of 1942.

The writer would welcome any personal recollections from those who knew young Kelley from school days or in the service. Any correspondence may be directed to Mr. McWhorter through the Alumni Office at Potomac State.

Potomac State Sports Wrapup For 1977-78

by Jack Aylor, '78
Sports Editor, PASQUINO

The Potomac State College Catamount athletic teams completed one of their most successful years in the history of the college. Following is a wrapup of each of the intercollegiate sports during the past year.

FOOTBALL

The Catamounts completed the '77 football season with a record of four wins and five losses under Coach Cecil R. Perkins, '52.

After being routed by Nassau and Chowan, the Cats trimmed Wesley (Dover, Del.) College 27-6. State then stopped the U. of Pittsburgh JV's 18-6, avenging a loss from the year before.

Montgomery (Md.) Junior College upset the Catamounts 10-3, although our defense allowed less than 50 yards offense.

Coastal conference champion and third-ranked Ferrum (VA) Junior College won over the Cats in the final stanza 14-0.

Coach Perkins, in his seventh season, delighted a large Homecoming crowd with a 26-0 crushing of the Community College of Baltimore.

The Cats evened their record at 4-4 the next week, clobbering Hudson Valley, 40-6. In a game decided by field goals, State lost to Lees-McRae (NC) 20-14 to close out the season.

Seven PSC players participated in the Conference North-South All-Star game in Norfolk, Va., in November.

BASKETBALL

Second-year basketball coach Don Moran set the Potomac State record for most wins in one season this year by recording 24 wins and five losses. The previous mark was held by former Coach Dana G. (Horse) Lough with a 20-2 record in 1960.

The Cats began the season with big wins over W.Va. Conference teams, Glenville and Salem, in the Lewis County Shrine Basketball Tournament in Weston.

Coach Moran brought national focus on the Cats when they traveled to the Vincennes, Indiana, Basketball Classic, to defeat two top-ranked teams, Vincennes and Pensacola, Fla.

The Catamounts continued their streak with victories in the New York City area over Mercer and Farmingdale junior colleges. These wins earned the team the No. 9 spot in national rankings.

Coach Moran held the sixth best defense in the nation, allowing a mere 59.8 points per game to the opposition.

The only losses at home came against the Community College of Allegheny Co., Pittsburgh, and Allegany Community College in Cumberland.

While playing 18 games on the road, the Cats lost twice during regular season, once to Westerchester CC to New York and the Community College of Baltimore.

The Cats were runners-up in Region XX this year, losing to Baltimore 75-71 in the finals. Last year they went to the national finals in Kansas.

WOMEN'S BASKETBALL

The Lady Cats completed their second season under

Coach Sandra Elmore with a record of four wins and 13 losses. Coach Elmore noted that the team competed against the toughest schedule in Region XX.

Four members of the team averaged in double figures, and Thea Garland, '78, Piedmont, was named to the second All-Region XX team, the first Lady Cat to receive such an honor.

Coach Elmore noted that although the girls did not have a winning season, they made a good showing for a team in existence only two years.

BASEBALL

Coach Jack Reynolds' baseball team closed out the year with a record of 20 wins and seven losses.

The team also set a record in baseball this year with 15 consecutive wins in one season.

The Cats went south during the last week in February for spring training in St. Petersburg, Fla., along with WVU's baseball team. On their return doing the first week in March they lost two pre-season contests to Wingate, N.C. Other pre-season games this week were rained out.

State's diamond-men showed losses to only three teams this year in regular season play: Allegany Community College, Garrett CC, and Butler (Pa. CC).

Going into the Region XX tournament held at Prince Georges Community College in May, the Catamounts were ranked fourth in the conference. They were upset, however, in the opening round by Cecil (MD) Community College.

VOLLEYBALL

Last fall the college expanded its athletic program for women with the addition of an intercollegiate volleyball team, coached by Miss Margaret Quinn, Keyser, '72. A graduate of Shepherd College, where she received a degree in physical education, Miss Quinn is presently employed by the Mineral County Board of Education, where she is instructor in physical education for students in kindergarten through Grades 5. She pointed out that teamwork and determination had pulled her new inexperienced team together and that with proper recruiting PSC will be a formidable contender in this area.
